The vote in Maine on Monday was the largest ever cast in the state, the Republican aggregate being 4,000 or 5,000 greater than the party

Sver polled before. The Democratic Rally.

The great "demonstration" of yes torday, upon which the Democratic bosses expended so much time and wind, was not a particularly notable event, save in the fact that it did not come up to the expectations of the leadors, and fell far short of what Republicans expected it would be. As to the daytime part of the affau it can only be regarded as a most misorable failure. The people and not come, and at no time during the day were there more people on the atroots than on an ordinary shatur day. At Imbodon's Springs there were not over a thousand people at any time. The evening meeting was certainly a success, though there were no more people on the streets than there were at the Oglesby meeting, if so many. The torchlight procession was a noisy, straggling. unorganized sort of affair, which wont through the streets with the same degree of order and regularity. observed by a flock of seared sheep. tack, so irregular was the order of marching-some portions of the column going by fours, other parts by threes, others in two ranks, while

The result of the election may be thus summarized. The Republicans have carried every county in the State with the possible exception of Knox, which is very close. They have elected twenty-nine Senators and the Domocrate only two, and have chosen four-fifths of the Representatives in the Logislature. They have elected the four Representatives into oncreas by large imporities, and have given to towernor Robben popular majority of U.Ou. The Republican vode will reach very nearly 1,000 to 5,000 larger than ever before that majority is the largest we have had smeet he Presidential electron of 1888, and far exceeds our most sanguine nopes.

FACTS AND RUMORS.

The Latest From the Scene of the New Brunswick Sensation.

Rumored Death in Prison of Ex-County Collector L. D. Jarrard on Hearing of the Suicide of Runyon.

The Grand Jury Charged to Investigate the Matter and Bring the Guilty to Punishment.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., September 10. -The suicide of President Runyon was such a shock to the residents that they were ready to grasp at any startling report. Early yesterday morning it was rumored that ex-County Collector L. D. Jarrard, ex-Postmaster of New Brunswick, had died in prison at Trenton upon hearing of the suicide of Runyon He has been serving out a term of ten years for embezzling. Chief of Police Fitzger-ald, however, denied the rumor.

Mrs. Runyon seems to have recovered somewhat from her prostrated condition of Monday. Miss Lillie Runyon, the sulcide's favorite daughter, is said to have attempted, in a fit of hysteria, on learning of her lather's death, to throw herself into a well of water She is also feeling more composed to-day.

The friends of President Runyon are very much shocked over the verdict given by the Corner's jury, "that he did volun-tarily, feloniously, and of his own malice storethought, kill and murder himself.' He must have committed suicide, his friends say, while temporarily insure. It was feared that the double shock which Director Johnson Letson has re ceived would prove fatal to him, as he has recently lost his wife and the tragedy at the bank would effect him. He was able, yesterday, however, to sit up.

A rumor that Mr. Davies, a cierk in the bank, had attempted to shoot himself, proved likewise false.

The doors of the National Bank were thrown open this morning and Bank Examiner Shelly was on hand at an early hour. The only business done was the payment of notes. A crowd collected and appeared to find much to occupy their thoughts in looking at the building.

Acting Cashier Campbell, who was also said to have committed suiceds last night, was on duty looking pale and careworn. In answer to a note, Examiner Shelly sent out the information that he was satisfied that the depositors would be paid in fuil. The capital stock at last examination was $250,000, and deposits about $800,000. The stockholders will probably be assessed quite heavily, and the affairs wound up. The State is about to prosecute Directors Stanard, Letson and Howell, who signed the notice posted on Saturday, stating that the capital of the bank was lutact, and that depositors would be paid in full.

There was a rumor yesterday morning that the New Brunswick Gas Company was involved in the fallure, but that company's secretary assured a reporter that there was no foundation for the re-

How much of Hill's deficit is due to political complications, no one 19 yet able to tell. He is said to have expended fabulous sums to secure his late re-elec-tion to the County Cierkship.

The city's finances are not so bad as as been reported. There is no danger of bankruptcy, but owing to a dead-lock in the Council, accommodation notes amounting to perhaps $100,000 cannot be paid and may go to protest. To es-cape this, certain citizens recently appilled for a mandamus compelling the Board to organ ze Monday night an ineffectual attempt was made in that direction, and it will be renewed next Monday. Allegations are frequent of Hill's connection with the ring of politicians who are known to have misad-ministered the city's affairs for some

Certain and Inexprable.

10 -At the opening of the September term of the Middlesex County Court yesterday, Judge Scudder charged the Grand Jury to take cognizance of the recent National bank troubles for the purpose of protecting the public from fur-ther wrongs and losses of this description He deplored the fact that those who are supposed to be the men guilty are beyond the reach of human justice, baying been removed by death, and the whole subject of the control of the National bank belongs primarily to another jurisdiction; "but," he added, "let punishment for vice and fraud in all conditions of life be certain and inexorable.'

SUSPENDED ANIMATION,

Singular Accident to a Fast Passenger PITISBURGH, PA, September 10 -The fast line east on the Pan-Handle Road met with a peculiar accident last evening. While the train was entering the city it stopped for a few minutes on the crossing of the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railroad. A freight train was being made up on the latter road, and three cars were shunted violently against the second coach of the fast line, knocking it over on its side, where it hung suspended It was held in place only by one end of . loaded freight car, which rested upon it and this alone prevented it from toppling over and being dashed to pieces wenty-five passengers escaped unburt through the windows.

A Squabble in a Printing Office. DETROIT, MICH., September 10 -Wai is raging in the office of the Evening Jour ngl in this city. A few weeks ago C. M. Hubbard, managing editor was discharged by Lloyd Breeze, editor in chief. Hubbard claimed to be held by contract till January, and refused to consider himself discharged. Having secured possession of a majority of the stock on Monday, he, with his friends, entered the office and declared the positions of the directors vacant, and elected himself and friends to the offices. Breeze gathered together the office employes and threw out the intruders. Later they were ad-mitted as stockholders. In the evening both factions were holding the fort and claiming a victory. Hubbard had sworn out an injunction claiming to be in possession of the office, and that Breeze was Wuen Mr. Jack penned that squib which appeared in his paper yesterday, to the effect that "anything less Williams, of Bingham, Ill.: "I took your than 15,000 majority in Maine might Athlophoros as directed, and it helped be considered a damper for the Republicans," he was not counting on a possible majority of 17,000, such it has been in my left leg and hip. The as is reported to day. He nibbled last two I could not walk about the house at the bait thrown out by the chairwithout a cane. If there is anything in man of the Maine state committee a the world to help rheumatism, I think it few days ago, in the shape of an estimated 10,000 majority, and he got caught. Served him right; he will probably learn after awhile not to monkey with Republican plans.

Miraculous Escapes in a Collision. FREEPORT, I.L., September 10.collision occurred on the Chicago, Mil wankee & St. Paul Railway yesterday be tween two passenger trains, one mile east of Lanark, which resulted in considerable loss to the company. Fortunately, beyond a lively shaking up and several bruises, but one man was hurtthe engineer of the west-bound train, who had his leg broken. The west-bound train, which runs from Dubuque down the river, was obliged to come around over the Southwestern road on account of a washout. The fast train going east met the extra train. Both were going at thirty miles an hour, and the engines came together with such force that they were thrown six rods from the track. The engineers and firemen jumped for their lives. It is miraculous that a large number were not Putting It on the Workmen. CLEVELAND, O., September 10 -In the burnt district some of the firms have again commenced pillog lumber and preparing to build their mills. Regarding the origin of the fire, the theory has gained ground among a few interested persons which lays the deed at the door of one or more of the employes of Woods Sperry & Co. It has been reported that on Saturday night the firm gave notice of a reduction of ninety cents of the wages of part of their force. The men were considerably stirred up and one of them, it is stated said, "well if you won't pay one dollar a day, you shan't pay ninety cents," and he left.

The fire occurred next night. Many persons believe some of the workmen were engaged in setting it, and use as an argu-ment that the fire was discovered where the men knew the firm had no insurance on that part of the lumber, and being near the river and bridge, escape would be

Save His Neck From the Avenuers of Blood. ST. JOSEPH, Mo., September 10. Bateman, who murdered the two Mc Laughlin children on August 31, was removed to this city from Savannah, during Monday night for safe keeping. Toward evening the officers received information that between one and two hundred people from the scene of the crime, all heavily armed, had arrived in the city, intending to lynch Bateman. It was decided to re-move the prisoner, and accordingly he was spirited away, and it is not known where he is now. From early evening to ten o'clock a crowd of several hundred people surrounded the juit. Evidently they awaited the arrival of a leader. Ou learning that Bateman had been removed the crowd dispersed, asserting that they would yet hang the murderer.

CHICAGO, ILL, September 10.-Th welfth annual convention of the Nationa Association of Fire Engineers met yesterday morning in the Appellate Court room, about 150 members being present. The body was called to order at twelve O'clock by the President, Mr. Thomas O'Connor, of New Orleans. Marshal Swency then introduced to the body T. T. Gurney, who, in the absence of Mayor Harrison, extended to the body a cordial welcome to the city. After President O'Connor had briefly responded, Alderman Hildreth was introduced and made short and humorous speech dent appointed a committee on creden-tials. Then the delegates were driven to the park. They also visited the water works. In the evening they attended the theater.

Pennsylvania Odd Fellows. Prinsburgh, Pa., September 10 —The Fourth Annual Convention of the Colored Lodges of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Pennsylvania assembled here session two days. The State district comprises fifty-seven lodges, with a membership of over 3,000, from which delegates are in attendance Besides this number of delegates, there are thirty honorary delegates present. The business sessions are secret. Last night there was a reception and flag presentation in Lafayette Hall, and to-day there will be a street parade with 600 men. In line, to conclude with a prize dilli. The election for State officers will be held to-day.

THE young man of the Herald cannot conceal his Democratic teachings and leanings. He makes certhin charges and boldly challenges us to prove that they are not true. That is essentially Democratic, and is a sort of tactics often resorted to by the press and speakers of that party. A charges B with stealing a horse; B indignantly denies the charge, when A triumphantly shouts. "prove it, then." That may do for Democratic minds, but it is not the way allegations are established in this or any other country.

THE Review, in that portion of its columns edited in Chicago, announces a Republican majority of 15,000 in Maine, but in its editorial department makes no mention of the matter whatever. The editor of the Decatur end of the concern don't seem to have any heart for news from Maine. But the news continues to come, all the same, and keeps growing, too. This morning the majority had reached 17,000.

The managers themselves confess that he muchly advertised day meeting at Imboden's Springs for Carter Harrison was a flat failure in point of numbers there being not more than 1,000 people in the grove at any one time. The committee had worked for weeks to get up a big meeting, and it was frequently predicted that there would be 10,000 to 15,000 visitors here to receive Harrison. There were no more people here at 2 p. m. yesterday than may be seen on the streets any fair Saturday. The weather was fine, and it was expected that the Jumbo of Chicago would draw a big crowd, but he failed, though the local committee did their best to "shake the woods" to arouse the mossbacks. Harrison appeared disappointed at the size of the crowd, but did not say anything about it, and neither did John M. Palmer or Jehn R. Eden; nei ther did any of them have anything to say about the 17,000 Republican majority in Maine, though Carter brought the detested Chicago papers to to the stand with him which gave the figures. THE TOROH-LIGHT PARADE.

The torch-light procession, which was eighteen minutes passing a given point, was more of a success in point of num bers, noise and the usual democratic en thusiasm. Evening trains brought in delegations from Springfield, Pana and other points, and when the line formed after much confusion, there were by various counts not more than 1500 men and were in the procession last night. At boys in the procession. At the start at least one-eighth of the straggling gang | Water street and North street J. O. Lake and Col. Waterhouse made the number 1391: Dr. O. F. Parker made it 1191; James Freeman nearly 1500, and the Re-PUBLICAN reporter's count was 1427. It is but fair to state that there were 1400 in line, one-eighth of whom were boys. The Springfield clubs with the Decatur and Tuscola clubs kept good order, but the remainder of the gang seemed more or less demoralized, and trotted along regardless of time. There were numerous bands and drum corps in line, with plenty of flage and transparencies. The parade was a very creditable showing, and made the democrats feel glad. The democratic residences along the line of march were few and far between but were nicely illuminated, and had it not been for the torches the procession might have got lost in its rambling through the dark THE AFTERNOON MEETING.

the dems, the managers attempted to get up a parade, but it proved a misorable fizzle in point of enthusiasm. With Ex-Gov. Paimer, Hou. John R. Eden, and a number of committoomon in two guily docorated carriages, headed by the G. A. R. band, the long bonsted "procossion" which was to have paralyzed the Republicans as a demonstration, moved slowly and sneakingly through several of the principal streets to Imboden's Springs, where the fformeon meeting was held in the grove. The 'orowd' assembled and took seats on the grass and upon improvised seats. There were less than SM voters and ladies present. On the speaker's stand were seated the orators C. A. Ewing, C. C. Clark, John R. Edon, 'Judge Nelson, D. K. Wilson, Uncle Billy Whoele, and others. At 3 o'clock Judge Nolson, in a characterist but brief speech, introduced Ex-Gov. John M. Paimer, who was received with moderate applause. In the outset Mr. Palmer gave succinct history of the organization of the Republican party and the fulfillment of its objects; he took occasion to apologize for leaving the party in 1872 to vote for Greeley, and then boasted of having voted for Tilden Ho would not then undertake to defend the either the Republican or Democrati party. He took the ground that he acted with the Democratic party of to-day because it advocates those things he wanted done. What do the two parties propose to do? That is the question. I don't care anything about the platform-they are the work of politicians (The General, it will be remembered, tried to ix up a platform at Peorla, but failed when Cartor Harrison and his crowd sat down or him.) Then the General said what few, if any, demogratic papers will even mention-tha Con. John A. Logan had something to do with the black laws in 1853, when Logen was a demnerat, which fact the speaker forgot to men tion. (A voice: Look out, or you'll tall too much about Logan.) It was an easy matter then for Palmer, who took the hint, to leave leclared that the two parties differ radically in their methods of government. He referred to the personal liberty and temperance ques democrate are in favor of open saloons, and The sneaker alluded to the claims of the Republican party for what it had done for the country, and made a labored attempt to ridicule the logislation of the party in power. Le us go back to the old democratic days. Refer ring to platforms adopted, he said that th Republicans at Chicago adopted one unlike any other, and the Democrate got there and adopt ed one entirely different, but not a whit better can do. The Democrats could baye declared their central idea in one paragraph. The speaker then mentioned the Republican and emocratic candidates for president and vice president, and like all democratic stump ora tors, he abused the Republican nominees as best he know how. He complained because laine has a little money, and endeavored to make political capital out of this fact, saying eral looked longingly for Harrison to come, and hen he saw the approaching jumbo of the

iny he stopped short, while the band played. HARRISON LOOMS UP. At a few minutes past 4 o'clock Carter Harison arrived at the grove. He was received at he doper by B. E. Fratt and other members of he committee. The Hibernian band preceded the curringe, and the Tuscola delegation of red shirts fell in behind. Turning the corner t Water and Eldorado streets, a heavily load ed beer wagon fell in behind and followed everal blocks, much to the amusement of the copie. Arriving at the grove the mayor of hiengo received a flattering evation, the 100 people rising to their feet and yelling themgrowd, and then introduced Mr. Harrison. He built, about 55 years or ago, with grey hair and full beard, slightly clipped. He is no public speaker, but he has plenty of assurance, and oceeded at once to tell how great a man he s--in his own estimation. His remarks wer lmost wholly devoted to himself. CARTER HARRISON made many votes for the Republicans by his personal speeches in Decatur. One Republican who had never heard Carter had said he was going to vote for him, but after he saw the boss of the Chicago bummer element and heard him talk he came away and said: "That settles it: I'll vote for Oglesby." A democrat said he would now vote for Ogleaby. Let Carter visit

Decatur again. EVERY Flavor that Dr. Price has made has the peculiar taste of the fruit from which it is obtained, and are so true to nature that their use leaves nothing to be desired. We have yet to hear of the cook who has used Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts, that was not delighted with them. For natural flavors none compare with Dr. Price's. A special exentsion train came in on the Central road last evening from Pana. It was secured by the democrats to help boom the Decatur meeting, and embraced five coaches. On the way up a vote for president was taken by a democrat. It stood: Cleveland 99, Blaine 77, Butler 3, and St. John 2. Get up another exeursion, quick.

forth that on "our Carter Harrison's" great day the Democrats of the four townships—Macon, Blue Mound, Mt. Zion and Wheatland—should meet en muses at Elwin at 10 o'clock and march to Decatur. They would have 160 horseneen, and Mr. Buckingham announced at Mt. Zion on Saturday that 6:60 would meet and start from Elwin at 10 o'clock te-day. The leading Bourbons went to Macon last night on the hand car to secure the Marcon band to ceoort them, and at 8 o'clock they commenced pouring in, Democrats from Boody, Democrats from Mt. Zion, from Macon and from the country around it. Two minutes before 10 the sound of a drum was heard; there was running and orders wore given: "The band and Macon delegation are coming. Get ready, boys," &c., but as they approached better to view and within a quarter of our place the enthusiasm seemed to die out, perhaps because the band had stopped beating their drum, and the procession came slowly down, and it seemed to impress so many the Rieman, and the seemed to four or five spring wagons and buggies and two or three horseback riders. The band concluded to change their team somewhat, as there was some balking with the leaders. After waiting a short time for more to come, the procession moved forward—some in spring wagons, carriages and oaris, and some on horseback. Ail told—women, children and men, excluding band—numbered 59—the democracy of four townships. There was no enthusiasm, whatever and the safety.

THE Republican Escort club will meet to-morrow night at headquarters. The membership is rapidly increasing, and orders for new suits are rolling in fast There will be 200 of the young men in line when "Black Jack" comes.

The County Fair. The Macon county fair will commend next Tuesday, the 16th, and will continue four days. The prospects for a very successful fair are flattering. There will be ine races, the stables of running and trotting horses being filled; Secretary Hostetler promises a very interesting exhibition during the week.

The Drama To-Night. The dramatic season in Decatur will be ppened to-night with "Power of Money."

Montreal paper says: The presentation of this play last night was to a good audience. The plot has been indicated in the Herald. It is a thoroughly American drama. The scenes are all American, although the characters belong to the world. The painting and arrangement of the scenery added greatly to the cliectiveness of the play and were highly creditable to the management, the French market in New Orleans, the Mammoth cave and the western mountain scenes being particularly striking. All the features of the genuine American play were present—the reliable railway offic the meddling policeman, the traveling players, the hero who always turns up at the right moment and especially when the heroine is in her tightest flx, the donble-dyed scoundrel, the rich old father who is murdered for his money, and all the rest of them. The duet singing and dancing was much admired and evoked much enthusiastic applause. There was a great deal of life in the play.

All members of the First M. E. Church knowing themselves to be in arrears on the current expenses of the church are most earnestly requested to bring the full amount to church next Sunday (the 14th) and place the same in your envelope in the collection basket. By so doing it will save a great deal of time and labor to the board of stewards and enable us to settle in full before conference.

THE fact that the same gentlemen who brought "The World" here are the managers also of the "Power of Money." which is to be given at the opera house to-night, is a guaranty that the play will be given properly. MARRIED.

The sad ending of the life of young Edward Kelley recalls to mind that Captain P F Alba came as near drowning off the Point as any man who eve entered those waters and escaped to tell In conversation yesterday Captain Alba told his experience in the following words

"I was a great swimmer in my youth In fact, I was expert in all athletic exercises, and a swim of that sort I undertook at Point Clear was in my mind bu an easy pastime. The waves were rolling moderately high, and I swam out to ride them. I was having quite an enjoyable experience when I noticed a little flotilla of jelly-fish, which sped toward me with great velocity. I knew they had very little movement of their own and was surprised that I swept past them so rapidly. The thought oc-curred to me that perhaps I was in a current, and I concluded to turn round and swim back to shore I turned, but at once yaw it was of no use for I made no headway at all

"'Ah,' said I, 'you are in for it, old man You have got out here and now you are going to have a struggle with the monster. At first I did not feel concerned, but I noticed that the clouds were gathering and the wind was be-coming stronger, driving the waves up higher, and, moreover, the night was coming on Surely I will be picked up,' I said, as I swam leisurely along. trying not to exert myself, 'but then, I thought, 'I am not what I used to be I am older and more fleshy, and out of but not very long in such a sea. Then I looked all around, and there was not a boat to the seaward I remembered that in such weather boats usually sought refuge, and I could not expect assistance out in the bay, besides, in these stormy hours sharks approach the shore in the hope of securing something from wrecks, etc. 'I guess I am in for it this time,' I said, and I could hear the waters rattling the tune in my ears, saying. You have come, you have come, we have got you at last.

"I looked back to the shore and could see that there was excitement at the hotel I held up my hand every now and then. I noticed that the people were manning the boats, but I knew that only one boat, the large one near the pier, could help me in the chop sea. Infortunately, the boat seemed to be manued by people of little experience, and I confessed, with a sinking heart, that it would not get them to me in time
"I continued to paddle about, and once in a while I was forced to gulp in some water I felt exhausted, but con-tinued my fight I thought if I could reach the spot where the current and the tide met I might get foothold long enough for the boat to reach me, and yet the water ran so fast I feared I could not make it At length I sounded for bottom As I let my feet sink it seemed us if something grabbed them and pulled me down, slantwise, like a shot Down I went and was pulled and tossed about under the surface. As I went down I strangled and the most horrible pain ran up my nose and concentrated between my eyes, just as you feel when water goes the wrong way I felt as if some blood-vessel would burst unless I got mr I was down there many seconds, and I tell you it was the most painful moment of my life Had I lest my bend at that moment I would have drowned without doubt, but I resolved to let the heart break rather than open my lungs Finally, just as my resolution was giving away, my bead came again above the surface, and I filled my lungs with air.

"I was thoroughly worn out. I could not stretch my arms and could keep up) only a fluttering of the bands. I bring shinting in the water and could barely keep affort Just then I heard the sound of ours in the boat-locks, and saw the brave fellow approaching in his skift. He was rowing manfully and skillfully, and managed to swing the stern of the boot around just in time for me to lay hold of it. I attempted to climb in, but he, Captain Jet Howard. nh m, but he, Captain Jet Howard, d, Don't try that, or you will swamp me The boat can hardly keep alive is it is 1 replied that I could not hold on long enough to be towed in. I asked hun to fe my wrist to the boat He and he could not come to the stern, for the burt would lose its head, and he awanped and we would both drown Then said I, get in the bow, and I will try to climb in If I see she is swamping, I give you my word of honor, I will let go? With that he got in the bow and eleverly believed the bout as I slowly and climbilly crawled over the stern I and clumsily crawled over the stern I fell forward into the bottom of the bont, he seized the oars and pulled at escape Captain Howard says I am the once for the shore. It was a narrow only man who has been in that sink and escaped above It is recorded in this paper that Captain Alba, soon after this event, pre-sented Captum Howard with a handsome gold watch and chain, as a some his betore not - Mobile (Ala)

This soap is taken from the Mexican Palmea or soap root, and contains no animal fat. As a toilet soap it is superior to anything ever offered to the public. While its cleansing appacity is 6 rimes greater than any soap made from alkali and grease, it contains nothing that would injure the most delicate skin; ou the contrary, it will cere chapped hands, pin-piks, sunburn and all diseases of the akin. After washing with this soap a short time the skin becomes smooth and soft, rendering the complexion clear and beautiful. It will be found valuable as a hair wash, in removating and preventing dandruft. Its great purity and freedom from mineral and animal substances makes it the most desirable article for the infant bath that can be procured. It is the cheapest soap you can buy, because it will go farther and give better satisfaction than advoker. Manufactured by
